

Insight Imaging

Phone: 810-275-9688 Fax: 810-963-1900 www.iinn.com 4800 S. Saginaw Street – Suite 1650 – Flint, MI 48507

First Name: _____ Last Name: _____

Home Address: _____ City: _____ Zip: _____

Phone: _____ Date of Birth: _____ Referring Physician: _____

Type of X-Ray Exam: Chest Abdomen Skull Sinus Ribs

Cervical Spine Lumbar Spine Thoracic Spine Sacrum / Coccyx

Extremity (Area) _____ Other (Area) _____

Reason for x-ray examination?

Have you had any other imaging (MRI, CT, Ultrasound, etc) done on the area being examined today?

Have you had surgery on the area being examined? If yes, when?

Do you have a personal or family history of cancer? If yes, explain:

Child Bearing Women Only:

Date of last menstrual period: _____

Any possibility you are pregnant? Yes No (If yes, please notify the technologist immediately.)

For Chest X-Ray Patients Only: (Please check any of the symptoms you may be experiencing.)

Cough Wheezing Chest Pain Shortness of Breath No Symptoms

Other (please explain): _____

Are you a Smoker? Yes No Ex-Smoker? Yes No Non-Smoker? Yes No

Have you had a previous chest x-ray? If yes, when and where?

Patient Signature: _____ Date: _____

RISKS: Ionizing radiation may cause damage to the cells in your body. This is usually very minor and does not cause any serious damage, however, large doses may cause the cells to become cancerous. A very low dose x-ray, such as a chest x-ray, has a tiny risk. Your doctor is aware of the risks and benefits of x-rays and should always balance the possible benefits of you having the test. It is always appropriate for you to have the x-ray or scan if it benefits you. Finding out if you have something wrong with you and the best way to treat it outweighs the very small risk of the scan. Imaging procedures involving ionizing radiation are not usually recommended for pregnant women, but can be performed in an emergency. If you are concerned about the risks, talk to your doctor before the examination. You have the right to refuse an examination and may do so if you wish.